Evergreens.—An interesting discussion on vergreens was entered upon. A few contendable of that family, but were obliged to give way for the greater merits of the Scotch and Austrian varieties. Mr. Galusha thought the difficulty of transplantation exaggerated. He would as soon transplant them as apple trees. The only rouble is that the roots must be well taken up and kept proist, watered thoroughly at planting, if the soil is dry, never afterward, then nulch thoroughly. Dr. Kennicott stated that uleh thoroughly. Dr. Kennicott stated that hey grew well throughout the State, as well as of the A stary where upon earth. Had transplanted eight sawou, I snyder, to nd lost no tree; he puddled them both in dig-
